Vaccines and The National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program

The Harvard community has made this article openly available. Please share how this access benefits you. Your story matters.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Citation</th>
<th>Vaccines and The National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program (2000 Third Year Paper)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Citable link</td>
<td>http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:HUL.InstRepos:9453695</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terms of Use</td>
<td>This article was downloaded from Harvard University’s DASH repository, and is made available under the terms and conditions applicable to Other Posted Material, as set forth at http://nrs.harvard.edu/urn-3:HUL.InstRepos:dash.current.terms-of-use#LAA</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Vaccines and the
The National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program

Katherine Davenport
Food and Drug Law
Third Year Written Work Requirement
Harvard Law School
April 10, 2000
Table of Contents

Introduction ................................................................................................................................. 2

I. The Food and Drug Administration: Regulation of Vaccines and Vaccine Manufacturers .......................................................................................................................... 5

   A. History of the FDA Regulation of Vaccines and Vaccine Manufacturers ........................................... 5

   B. The Review of Biological Products .................................................................................................. 6

   C. FDA Regulation of Vaccines and Vaccine Manufacturers ................................................................ 8

      1. FDA Regulation and Licensing of Vaccine Manufacturers ............................................................... 9

      2. FDA Regulation of Vaccines ......................................................................................................... 11

      3. FDA Regulation of Vaccine Labeling ............................................................................................ 12

      4. FDA Monitoring of Adverse Events .............................................................................................. 12

   D. Conclusion: Limited Effect of FDA Regulation .............................................................................. 14

II. How Do We Confront the Adverse Effects of Vaccination? ................................................................. 15

   A. Theories of Liability ....................................................................................................................... 15

   B. Failure of the Tort System ............................................................................................................ 17

III. The National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program ........................................................................... 21

   A. The Design of the NVICP ............................................................................................................. 22

      1. Location of the NVICP in the Court of Federal Claims ................................................................. 22
IV.
The Liability of Vaccine Manufacturers after the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program

A. NVICP Limitations on Manufacturer Liability
   1. Unavoidable Side Effects
   2. Statutory Presumption of Due Care in Packaging and Warning
   3. Direct Warnings
   4. Punitive Damages

B. Restriction on Evidence from the NVICP
V.

Has the NVICP Achieved Its Goals? Proposals for Reform .......... 53

A. First Goal: Protecting the Vaccine Supply and Reducing Vaccine Litigation ...................................................... 53

B. Second Goal: Compensating Injured Vaccinees ......................... 55
   1. Length of NVICP Proceedings .............................................. 56
   2. Adversarial Nature of Proceedings .................................... 58
   3. Loss of the Presumption of Vaccine Injury ............................. 60

C. Eradicating the Tension Between the Two Goals of the NVICP ......... 62
   D. Eradicating the Tension Between the NVICP and the Safety Goal of the Vaccine Act ........................................... 62

Conclusion ................................................................. 65